100 FOOT FALL

Thomas William, 55, a miner on the Comstock practically all of his life, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon when he fell from the 500-foot level at the Ophir mine to the 1500-foot level, says the Reno Journal. At a late hour his body, which was dismembered, had not been entirely recovered. William and one other miner were alone on the 500-foot level at the time of the accident. William rang for the cage, but after some time, during which he received no response, he started an investigation. Then it was that the other miner found William had disappeared.

It is believed that William had loaded a car of ore and started toward the cage with it, but that it became out of his control and fell down the shaft, carrying the miner with it. The ore car was missing from the 500-foot level when a search for William was started. William was born in England.

DATES ARE SET FOR POLO SEASON

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 16.—Coronado's winter polo season will open January 1, 1921, it was announced recently, and will continue until April 1, with several match games every week.

2410 PEOPLE IN NEARBY COUNTY

Town of Divide Boosts Number of Persons Living in Esmeralda County.

The preliminary announcement of the population of Esmeralda county, subject to correction, gives the population of the county as 2410, as against 9369 in 1910 and 1922 in 1900. The population of Goldfield is given as 1558, as against 4828 in 1910.

Most of these figures have been announced before, but the latest report gives the population of various districts in the county, outside of Goldfield, as follows:

Condalia, 2; Columbia, 82; Divide, 435; Fish Lake, 89; Hornsilver, 18; Klondike, 9; Lida, 63; Lone Mountain, 8; Millers, 64; Silver Peak, 78.

These figures, with the 1558 population for Goldfield, make the 2410 total for the county—Goldfield Tribune.

Many polo players who recently entered the Meadowbrook, Long Island games, will appear here during the winter, it is thought.

NEW RAILWAY WILL BE BUILT

Proposed Line Will Connect Nevada With Points in Southern Idaho.

Notice has been served upon the governors of Nevada and Idaho that a new line of railroad, to be known as the Idaho Central, will be constructed from Wells, Nevada, to Rogerson, Idaho, connecting the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific lines and shortening the route between Nevada and California points on the one hand, and Idaho, eastern Oregon and Washington points on the other, approximately 400 miles, says the Carson City News. This line will be constructed along the route via Contact, Nevada, covering a distance of 90 miles.

The public service commission of Nevada is now in communication with the Idaho commission preparatory to joint consideration and favorable recommendation to the interstate commerce commission to the end that this highly valuable new railroad construction which will shorten distances and save in time from 26 to 30 hours between Nevada, Idaho, eastern Oregon and Washington points may be commenced and completed at an early date.

This line will open up northern Elko county and furnish shipping facilities for its many thousands of cattle and sheep annually; also for shipments of ore tonnage from the Contact mining district where vast copper deposits have been opened up, both outbound and for material and supplies inbound, while at the same time it will open up and serve a new irrigated district aggregating 60,000 acres in the Snake river section of Idaho through development of the waters of the Snake river.

MINE AT TOBAR SHIPS MUCH ORE

Spruce Monarch Hauling High
Grade Long Distance to Western Pacific.

The Spruce Monarch, 25 miles south of Tobar, on the Western Pacific, is shipping through Tobar and Currie, 100 tons of silver-lead ore daily, using two tractors and eight auto trucks, says the Goldfield Tribune.

The mine, owned by H. S. Woodward and Herbert Battis of Wells, is worked through a 1500-foot tunnel that cuts the vein at a depth of 500 feet. It is an old producer that was reopened when the price of silver led Woodward and Battis to form a new organization to start work.

The ore is a replacement of lime, the width of the vein varying greatly. At some places it narrows to two feet and in others the width is 50 to 60 feet. Some of the ore being shipped in quantity nets the company $50 to $75 a ton after freight and smelter charges have been paid.

A large force of miners, many of whom became stockholders in the company when there was not sufficient money in the treasury to pay their wages in cash, is employed in working and in development work.

In the Race for State Senator

(From the Manhattan Magnet, August 7, 1920)

In seeking at the hands of the Democratic party the nomination State Senator from Nye County, Ben D. Luce stands upon his records.

He has always been a zealous worker for his party, but when he served the people of this county in the Legislature, he strove for the general good of all the people, no matter what might be their political affiliations. Although himself too old to shoulder a rifle, he sent his son to battle and was a vigorous war worker throughout the conflict. Mr. Luce was a power in the Nevada Legislature, and when he was chosen Speaker of the House his every decision was marked by impartiality and good judgment. He has been a resident and taxpayer of Nye County for many years and is a heavy operator in the mill tailings industry at Tonopah. He merits and enjoys the confidence and friendship of all his workmen.
